On May 4, the LCRC held an opening reception and artist talk promoting an LCRC gallery exhibit titled, Infatigables. Infatigables (untiring) is an art exhibit by artists Francis Acevedo, Mario Alvarado, and Laura Delmis, inspired by Latina mothers. It is a tribute to all mothers and aims to bring a spotlight to the narratives of Latina mothers through the ages, capturing the essence of their unyielding spirit and their labor-intensive lives. The show invites reflection on the vital roles Latina mothers have played throughout history, shedding light on their perspectives with authenticity and love. The artist's talk was moderated and recorded by Armando Estrada of Empower House. The exhibit will be on display through June 29.

On May 17 & 18 the LCRC hosted MACRI's (Mexican American Civil Rights Institute) 5-year anniversary and symposium inside of Central Library. Presented by Caesar Morales of Empower House.

LITTLE READ WAGON

The Little Read Wagon team offered the Let's Play at San Pedro Library program the first Saturday in May. The team brought a wide variety of loose parts, playdough, a makerspace, some gross motor materials, etc. for children and families to enjoy. These open-ended materials allow children to build connections in their brains as they are able to bring their own thoughts and creativity to the materials and to practice important skills.

The team concluded the Let's Play at Mission series in May. During the last program at Mission on May 15th one mom commented to the team that she knew the programs were a lot of work, but that she really appreciated them. During the program on May 1st children and families particularly enjoyed painting on large pieces of cardboard. Some children even painted themselves and each other! During the program on the 15th children used colorful tape to make their own socks. When you give children the freedom to use open-ended play materials their creativity is boundless!

The team offered a pop-up play program at Alderete Park on May 17th to promote the upcoming summer Let's Play at Garza Community Center series. Alderete Park was selected strategically because it is close to the community center, and it is directly beside an elementary school. The team arrived at the park after school, and they were able to see lots of families! The team brought many of the items that they usually offer at Let's Play programs, such as playdough, a makerspace, bubbles, loose parts, Squigz, chalk, etc. The team also offered families a healthy snack. Children were very creative with the Squigz during this program. Squigz are toys that look like colorful suction cups. The children used the play materials to give themselves unicorn horns. They also designed a game where they tossed the materials on the playground slide to see if they could get them to stick. Families who attended the program were able to get a small taste of the Let's Play program. The team also handed out flyers for the upcoming play series.

In a similar way, the team also offered a pop-up play program at Carroll Early Childhood Center on May 22nd after school. This program was designed to promote the upcoming Let's Play at Martin Luther King Park series, as Carroll is very close to the park. The team brought sample play materials, healthy snacks, and handed out flyers for the program.

CHILDREN'S (SYSTEM-WIDE)

Much the activity in May involved preparation for and promotion of Summer with San Antonio Public Library (SAPL) for children. Staff across work units and locations of SAPL assisted with sorting brand new books for delivery to branches. The books will be given to children to start off their summer of reading for fun. Children's Services team members made many visits to schools to promote Summer with SAPL, inviting children to visit with their families to enjoy weekly and special guest events in addition to the books and other materials available to borrow.

Thanks to the generosity of SAPL Foundation board members, several SAPL staff members attended the Literary Luncheon featuring the author of Dragons Love Tacos, Adam Rubin. Mr. Rubin offered an engaging presentation and signed books for a long line of fans.

On Saturday, May 11 SAPL hosted the City-Wide Battle of the Bluebonnets. Seventy-two upper elementary students, plus their team coaches and families, gathered in and around the Central Library auditorium for the competition. Teams representing six school districts competed to correctly answer questions about the twenty books on the 2023-2024 Bluebonnet list. Following the competition and recognition of the top two teams, guests went on a brief tour of the Central Library. Cresencia Huff read out the questions and answers. Rachel Forbes (Pan Am) and Teague Shosh (Parman) assisted with scoring and the tour.

The 98th Young Pegasus Poetry celebration was held Sunday, May 19 at the Briscoe Western Art Museum. Celebrated poets received a copy of the anthology and read their work to a room full of family and friends. Randi Jones (Semmes) and Jacqueline Gonzales (Johnston) received the poets as they arrived.

Mr. Bouffard also brought samples of Round Rock honey for participants to taste – and to take home with them. This series (which has been presented in Dallas, Houston, Austin, in addition to San Antonio) is made possible by the Healthy Hive Foundation through a grant from HEB's Our Texas Our Future initiative.

May 2024

OLDER ADULTS (SYSTEM-WIDE)

In May, the San Antonio Public Library celebrated Older Adults Month. A variety of programs were offered at library locations around the city to celebrate the older adults in our community and the important roles that they play and share with older adults throughout San Antonio that the San Antonio Public Library offers many opportunities for them to be active mentally, physically, and socially. Highlights of programs offered during the month included are described below.

Technology classes were offered by Older Adults Technology Services (OATS), a program of AARP. These classes included a session at Thousand Oaks that was an introduction to apps that support learning (such as language learning apps, apps that help individuals explore the arts and art history, and apps that help individuals learn to play an instrument). Another session that was also offered at Thousand Oaks was a session on digital scrapbooking tools that provided participants with an overview of a few different tools that make it easy to create, share, and print scrapbooks.

The library offered sessions of loteria for older adults at five branch library locations: Schaefer, Memorial, Encino, Landa, and Thousand Oaks. These sessions offered older adults the opportunity to enjoy social connection while playing the familiar game loteria. The loteria boards used for these sessions were a larger size with larger images and larger print size, which makes the program more accessible to older adults overall but specifically those who might have a vision impairment. Participants provided positive feedback that they appreciated the opportunity for social connection.

The library also hosted ABODE Contemplative Care for the Dying for a total of four sessions on two topics related to end of life planning. Sessions were hosted at Central and Tobin. The first session topic was How to Stop Procrastinating End of Life Planning, which helped participants identify their end-of-life planning priorities and identify what's stopping them from starting or finishing their planning. The second session topic was 9 Things to Include in Your Departure Directions™, which helped participants gain clarity about who and what matters most when it comes to prioritizing how they wish to be cared for and remembered after they are gone.

The library offered an information session with staff from Alamo Area Council of Governments (AACOG) at Cody Branch Library. This session offered the opportunity to learn about AACOG's Aging Services for older adults.

Finally, a session of intergenerational QiGong essentials was Offered at Central Library. This session, facilitated by QiGong Instructor Natalie Envold offered older adults and families with children the opportunity to learn the basics of qigong and its benefits related to movement, posture and balance.

CENTRAL LIBRARY

CHILDREN'S LIBRARY

Tween Time: Librarian Ashley Palacios was assisted by Librarian Madeline Nezat and Library Assistant Mary Elizabeth Fernandez in providing activities for tweens to engage with in May. They used different materials such as scrap paper, tissue paper, yarn and felt to make cards for Mother's Day. One week they tried their hands at origami and made paper airplanes and folding stars. They also played board games and built forts. They had fun attempting to create bouncy balls using glue, borax, and water, even added glitter to make them more unique.

Family Story Time: Family Story Time, coordinated by Assistant Manager Shannon Seglin in partnership with Ms. Palacios and Librarian Madeline Nezat, continued to be a popular early childhood program. Highlights included a reading of the book Dinosaur Kisses and play with mini dinosaurs, a basket with dinosaur-sized eggs and dinosaur puppets as well. The programming team also borrowed a kit of balls and tubes from the Little Read Wagon early childhood outreach division that was a big hit. Ms. Seglin read Hat Tricks and afterwards the children worked together and used problem solving to figure out how to get the balls to move through the tubes. It was like magic!

Sensory Friendly Play Time: With steady growing numbers, Librarian Madeline Nezat continues to experiment with her sensory bins, bottles, and toys as she ascertains the needs of her regular community and learns new ways to define "joy" and "success." Her innovative offerings were the subject of an engaging presentation to her peers during the monthly Children's Librarians Meeting, where her sensory bin ideas were very well received.

Mother's Day Baby Time: Ms. Madeline Nezat held a special Mother's Day Baby Time in May. After picking a board book that centered around maternal affection for a baby, Ms. Nezat sang an array of songs that encouraged affection, joy, and trust between mother and child. The patrons that attended were thrilled with the special Saturday baby program.

Tours: Ms. Palacios led a tour of the Central Library for a group of 6th graders from Leal Middle School in partnership with the Teen Library, whose staff toured the older grades around the building.

Outreach: Ms. Seglin and Ms. Nezat visited Beacon Hill Academy for their Career Day. They spoke to 4 classes of 6th-8th graders. Not only did they talk about their paths to becoming librarians, but they had good conversations about what the library has to offer. They answered lots of thought-provoking questions as well. Ms. Palacios visited Central Christian Day School, where she presented story times to children and brought books for the teachers to use in class. Ms. Seglin visited Madison Square Child Development Center where she shared stories and songs with two classes and delivered library books in support of their curriculum. Manager Kate Simpson delivered books for all 5 grades of children at Discovery School and received a lovely thank you card signed by all the PreK 4 students.

Escape the Earth Podcast: Library Assistant Mary Elizabeth Fernandez cohosted the Escape the Earth podcast with Tim Johnson (Igo) Elissa Vura (Brook Hollow), and JD Elizondo (Information Services @ Central). The Escape the Earth crew discussed the book Legends and Lattes by Travis Baldree. The Escape the Earth podcast can be found on Soundcloud on SAPL's Podcast TunedIn Channel.

TEEN LIBRARY

Kathleen Fordyce (Manager, Teen Library @ Central) and Connie Hejl (Teen Services Librarian I, Tobin) facilitate the "Random Fandom" club Thursdays on Discord, in which teens engage in discussions about fandoms that interest them and chat about their lives with one another. Kathleen also serves on the 2024 Teen Summer and Virtual Teen Services workgroups.

Rosalie Barrera (Librarian I) continues to engage with teens as they explore and activate the Teen Library as their own space to serve their needs, such as reading, crafting, gaming, or gathering with friends. Rosalie supports and interacts with teens on the 210teenlibrary Discord server every Tuesday and as needed in weekly clubs such as "Teen Time" by chatting with teens and answering questions they may have about the library and Teen Services. During the reporting period, Rosalie coordinated a couple of library tours at the Central Library and the Teen Library with students from Taft High School as well as a small group of students from Leal Middle School. The groups of visiting students were provided with opportunities to register for library cards and explore the services and resources found in the Teen Library.

Ciana Flores (Library Assistant PT) continues to engage with teens both in the Teen Library and via the 210teenlibrary Instagram page. She is responsible for the 3D printing requests from teens on the Discord server. Ciana prints and sends the requested item out to the teens' preferred library branch for pick up.

Regina Almanza (Library Assistant): "Teen Tuesday" after-school activities at the Teen Library highlight general teen interest and celebrations. Suggesting, participating, and leading – these activities allow teens to show their peers tips and tricks. With the school year winding down, teens focused on filling the schedule with past favorites. Many of the dishes prepared this month allowed teens to have moments where they could cook and then sit and enjoy their meal with fellow participants, providing moments of community and camaraderie. Teens made fresh lemonade, ramen, crepes, and more. In a sushi-making session, teens ran out of nori, so they created new sushi appetizers and sushi mini tacos using seaweed chips. The ingenuity and creativity of teens never ceases to amaze the staff! Teen Library congratulates graduating teen volunteer Angelina, who spearheaded and led many after-school “Teen Tuesdays” activities. Random artwork has also been found in the craft area, meaning teens have been making creative and independent use of the supplies. Painting is a current teen favorite, as is making slime. Pictures and videos from program times can be found on the @210teenlibrary Instagram page.

Another patron was here during that time and often would come by and ask staff if they knew whether the young man had received a job. Today the young man came by, saw the other patron, and went to talk to her and update her about his life. Another Learn patron who had been on the street for over 25 days came by to thank staff for helping him with his Opportunity Home application. The month of May included two nationally recognized observances – mental health and preservation. Staff planned accordingly.

For Preservation Month, the Carver branch held Preservation Day on May 4. Dr. Melinda Creech shared her research on early African American settlers who moved to the East Side, particularly after their emancipation at the end of the Civil War. Dr. Charles Gentry, City of San Antonio's Office of Historic Preservation (OHP), discussed how that group thrived and contributed to a robust entrepreneur presence in their forged community. The event included a pop-up exhibit, Go Together, which documented the heritage of African Americans in San Antonio. Claudia Guerra, formerly of OHP, who worked extensively on the exhibit discussed the research that went into its creation.

In honor of Mental Health Month, the branch partnered with the San Antonio Black International Film Festival (SABIFF), screening Antwon Lindsey's documentary film, HUSH (2023) on Sunday, May 19. The film explores the "various historical, social, and political influences that have contributed to the stigmas associated with mental illness in Black communities throughout the United States," according to the filmmaker.

May also marked the return of the branch's annual Pan African Cultural Festival, held this year on Saturday, May 11. Some 500 people attended. Celebrating the diverse cultures of Africa and the influence of the worldwide African Diaspora, the festival included live performances, arts, cuisine, music, a fashion show and panel discussion, The Pan African Conversation.

Children's

Mr. Jarzombek attended a Property Tax Help event at Second Baptist Church on May 1st, where he had sheets with property tax information that he gave to persons who came to his table. Before attending the event, he had his doubts about how much value he could bring to the event. Besides bringing the sheets of property tax information, he had very limited knowledge about property taxes, and as a children's librarian, he knew there would be few (if any) children attending the event.

However, before the event started, a fellow exhibitor came to his table and told him he was a little disappointed he was no longer able to access an online class given by the City of San Antonio. Mr.

Jarzombek told the person that he was not aware of the class he was taking, but that he would be glad to look into it. He asked the person for his name and contact information so he could let him know why he was unable to continue taking the class.

After a couple of phone calls and email messages, Mr. Jarzombek found out that the class had in fact been discontinued. However, Brian Douglass from Digital Services told him there was another website that offered free classes covering the same information. Mr. Jarzombek called the person and explained the situation – the person was happy to know he could still learn the information he needed.

Sometimes it can be in surprising and unexpected places that you can make a difference!

Mr. Jarzombek made a couple of visits to the Central Library to help sort books for the summer reading program. He has also been very busy preparing a cart for the free books that Carver Library will be giving to the children at the beginning of next month.

Teens

Teen Librarian, Michael Harle, continues to ensure Carver's Teen Area is reserved for teens 13-18 only. This has proven a formidable challenge as the branch is frequented by a large group of neighborhood tweens aged 11-12 and their younger siblings. However, through continued work with volunteer, Paula R., to maintain a regular Teen Time (which will be shifting to Tuesdays in June), the teen room continues to be maintained as an exclusive space.

Learn

For the month of May, Marcel spent much time preparing for the following months programming and building relationships within the community. May 10th was Staff Day which consisted of a team building game show set up by Teen Librarian Michael Harle, which Marcel and their team won. Marcel has also been working with Shauna Mendoza and Veronica Loxsom with the Claude Black Community Center to be able to create a resume building presentation for Claude Black's Training for Job Success Program which is happening on June 26th and June 28th. Marcel attended several meetings to work out the details with Shauna and Veronica.

Marcel also performed an outreach event at the District 2 Senior Center, which consisted of speaking to seniors about the Learn Center's services and the senior's needs, as well as playing Emoji Bingo with them. Marcel also worked with the patrons attending the Carver Crochet club to be able to throw one of the members a going away party. The community was very sad to see that patron leave, but Marcel was able to leverage Learn's other services (mobile device assistance) to teach the members of the Crochet Club how to keep in touch using their iPads and Smartphones.

CODY

The Cody Branch Library celebrated forty years of service to our community on Saturday, May 11. Library Assistants Luanne Bloom and Angela Olivarez put together several craft stations for attendees centered around the I ♥ Cody theme, including a heart shaped corner bookmark, a heart magnet, a beaded keychain, and origami. Teen volunteers helped with face painting, which turned out to be the most popular offering that morning! Members of Ed Cody's family were in attendance and thanked staff for the wonderful celebration, which featured Board member Jo Ann Harris, Assistant City Manager David McCary, Interim Library Director Kathy Donellan, and a special performance from The BarCodyans.

The branch hosted both the May Uniform election and the Primary Runoff election, for both early voting and election day. Regular programming including book clubs, Fiber Club, Film Club, and French Conversation Club worked around the election schedule and continued to meet throughout the month, utilizing other areas in the library.

Children's Librarian Cari Raley visited nine area elementary schools, meeting over 4000 kids and their families and telling them about the free library they could visit this summer seven days a week and the great programs Cody has for children this summer. Several grown-ups mentioned that they were excited to attend the library and get a card for their family to check out free books.

Teens at Cody have many programs to choose from! We have programs every day after school as well as a later program on Monday nights for high school teens who need more time to get to the library after school. A well-received Homeschool teen program, hosted by Teen Librarian Ashley Frost, has recently been introduced Wednesday afternoons. Cody currently accounts for 11% of all Teen programming in SAPL and 17% of all SAPL teen programming attendance.

Teens spent May learning new skills like face painting, weaving, and getting creative with slime on top of the activities always available in the teen section.

Adult Services Librarian Adrian Leal coordinated several events for adults. On May 16, Master Beekeeper Konrad Bouffard of Round Rock Honey brought the Talking Bees Program, an attention-grabbing, informative, and humorous presentation. Those in attendance appreciated the information provided and asked a ton of questions. Free samples of honey were available to those in attendance.

On May 17, in support of SAPL's Older Adult Month initiative, the branch offered an "Ageing Services" presentation presented by the Alamo Area Community of Governments (AACOG). The presentation focused on the services able to help those older adults or their family members. Services such as: Respite, Caregiver Maintenance, Income Support, Residential Repair, along with many others.

On May 29, in support of SAPL's Mental Health Awareness Initiative, the branch offered a "SACRD Information Session". This presentation focused on the mental health resources available to the community. Attendees were grateful for the program and appreciated all the information.

COLLINS GARDEN

Collins Garden enthusiastically welcomed Teen Librarian Ami Sarabia to the team for the summer during the Las Palmas renovation. The library was happy to again serve as a voting center for the community.

On May 2 Children's Librarian, Gina Brudi attended Perales Platica at Perales Elementary and talked to families about library resources and programs. She attended the SAPL Foundation Literacy Luncheon at the Witte Museum on May 5th, featuring author Adam Rubin Dragon Loves Tacos. Ms. Brudi continues her monthly story time visits to Little Wonderland, Knox Early Education Center, and the Preschool classrooms at Collins Garden Elementary. For the reporting period she hosted three Lego Clubs, two Let's Create: Art Time and Let's Build: Blocks and More and five Preschool Storytimes. In celebration of Mother's Day, she mounted a display of books featuring mothers. Children decorated flowers and taped them on the white board in the children's area and tweens created Squishmallows and taped them on the middle school white board.

Teen Services Librarians Daniella Toll and Ami Sarabia helped supervise teen volunteers and empowered them to create a plan for events ages 13-18 would like to see at the Collins Garden Library. At weekly Teen Club, teens made slime, made new friends, supported each other, bonded over music.

On other days teens all did different activities: one brought a LEGO kit, another asked for puffy paint to decorate her purse, and the last one made a clay sculpture as a gift for a friend. Sarabia continued leading Music Monday on Discord and Toll continued to assist with the weekly Teen Time Club on Discord with the Virtual Teen Services workgroup and daily passive programming activities in the branch.

Many new teens came into the Collins Garden Library for the summer. New teen volunteers worked together to create a different activity for each week, and a flier promoting the weekly Teen Club. Toll and Sarabia put together gift bags celebrating the graduating teens on Virtual Teen Services who may be soon aging out of the 210teenlibrary Discord server for ages 13-18. The Branch hosted snacks for ages 0-18 five days a week. The branch also hosted a high school intern in partnership with the Family Service Association, who is learning leadership skills and helping the branch with the 3D printer.

On May 15, Adult Librarian Rosa Villa hosted the Collins Garden Book Club, where they discussed Kristin Harmel's novel The Book of Lost Names. In honor of Asian/Pacific American Heritage Month, Ms. Villa mounted the Collection Development's curated Asian/Pacific book display, an Anime/Manga display, screened the movie Shang-chi & the Legend of the Ten Rings and hosted a Koi Salt Watercolor Painting craft on May 21, a hands-on experience where patrons could create their own koi fishes using salt and watercolor. On May 18, Collins Garden hosted Yaping Zhang for a tea ceremony demonstration, an interactive session where she shared insights about the importance of tea in Chinese culture. Ms. Villa also provided a platform for personal growth with the Adult Diamond Art Painting class on Sundays, a delightful opportunity for patrons to unwind and explore their creativity using sparkling gems at their own pace.

As the first week in May is also known as National Pet Week, Ms. Villa hosted a DIY Pet Toys craft on May 7 and allowed patrons to create toys for their pets. On May 25, the Collins Garden Library hosted a Soar into Saving & Budgeting class, a highly informative session where financial advisors from the River City Federal Credit Union shared invaluable tips on how to save and budget effectively. In May, Ms. Villa partnered with Brenda Dorador from Senior Planet to host the Chrome Essentials Program Series at the library every Wednesday and Friday, during which seniors were taught basic computer skills.

CORTEZ

The Month of May had a lot of end-of-school and beginning-of-Summer preparations for Cortez Library. Added to that, Cortez Library hosted two early voting cycles for the election office. On May 5th, the staff gathered to spend some quality time together, led by the people in charge. Angela Morrow conducted a game tournament of the card game Nertz, a social solitaire game, with one-on-one competition brackets and prizes for the first and second place. Melissa Carroll hosted a hilarious board game, Really Loud Librarians. Linda Childs hosted a Movie challenge, where staff had to give vague information about their favorite movie until someone guessed correctly. Staff also brought their favorite foods to share and ended the time together with a special karaoke session which Library Aide Dillon Martinez put together and quickly became a raucous good time for singers and supporters alike.

Branch Manager Angela Morrow with Children's Librarian Linda Childs continue to cohost Name That Tune on Monday evenings at 6PM. Attendees made their own playlists for the first time ever to challenge the Librarians for a change, which was a delight! Ms. Morrow also finished her 3-month commitment to Innovation Academy, where she was able to learn data analysis skills and gave a presentation about the Library on May 31st.

Adult Services Librarian Melissa Carroll hosted the Nothing Fancy Book Club. This month the group discussed books from two different genres; a literary mystery, I Have Some Questions for You by Rebecca Makkai and a graphic novel, Can We Talk About Something Pleasant? by Roz Chast. Cortez Crochet Club continues to be a popular weekly program with new and returning customers. The club got "wild" and even welcomed a couple of knitters. Library Aide Esmeralda Staudt shares cohosting duties for the Crochet Club by popular demand of her impressive fiber art skills. Metro Health's Diabetes Prevention & Control Group offered two more Diabetes Prevention workshops (Prevent T2) in this ongoing series for patrons with prediabetes or another chronic disease. The Healthy Neighborhoods cooking program, led by Metro Health's Vince Escobedo, featured asparagus prepared two different ways; grilled and baked with lemon, garlic, and parmesan. Cortez welcomed Bexar County Master Gardener, Candy Roach, as part of the Dig It! gardening series. She presented a lively and highly informative program on starting a summer garden for beginners.

There were four of Library Assistant Jo Ann Paredes's Getting Crafty craft classes for May: Ribbon Flowers, a Woven Hat, Mod Podge, and a Tote Bag. Crafters also brought in their own crafts to work on.

May was a slightly slow, but no less fun, month for Cortez children as preparations for Summer with SAPL got underway. New faces joined the regular attendees for story time and LEGO time, especially once Johnston Library closed for renovations. Children's Librarian Jacqueline Gonzalez of Johnston, who is a fearless singer, made the kids' days when she joined story time! A special event was planned for the tween time before Mother's Day. Tweens could make either a scented salt scrub or a scented salt soak for the Special Grown-Up Lady in their life as a gift. Everyone who made was very excited with the result!

Children's

Encino's children had fun while also slowing down a bit to prepare for Summer in May. We had a special Picnic with Parents (and Grandparents!) to honor caregivers while also working to include different types of families that may feel left out on parent specific holidays. Families were able to create their own picnic themed snacks, play outdoor games, enjoy conversation starters and have fun in the photobooth.

We also continued our regular Story Time and Baby Time programs which continue to be a hit and a great community building experience. Caitlin Leonard had the opportunity to meet with students and parents to talk about the library and summer at Bulverde Creek Elementary's Early Literacy Night. She also spoke to ~800 students throughout a career day at Wortham Oaks Elementary where she presented to groups of 40-60 students at a time about the library's exciting summer opportunities.

Teens

Encino teens have been led by our teen library aide Kelli Pyles while we await our next Teen Librarian. Each week the kids come up with different activities and they always have a nice big group hanging out together.

Adults

May was a busy month for adults at Encino! Encino participated in system-wide initiatives, as well as hosting independent programs. For system wide initiatives Encino participated in the Bexar County Master Gardeners "Dig It!" series where attendees got to learn about making a Spring and Summer garden; on May 9 patrons got to make DIY Pet Toys for their dog, cat, or bird as part of National Pet Week; and on May 15 Encino hosted Debbie Countess from Texana to play Loteria as part of Older Americans Month!

On May 5, families got to enjoy "Picnic with a Parent (or grandparent!)." This was a collaborative program between adult librarian Ann Laird, and children's librarian Caitlin Leonard. At this program we had picnic themed snacks, a photobooth opportunity, and outdoor activities.

Ann Laird continued her outreach at the Franklin Park Assisted Living community on May 2, with an author talk featuring Clive Cussler. The residents enjoyed the presentation and had the opportunity to borrow a couple of Clive Cussler's books.

The “Get Craftin’” series for adults also continued in May. On May 13 adults learned a technique using plastic bags, markers, watercolor paper, and spray bottles to make abstract watercolor type printing over pre-printed quotes.

Encino distributed over 90 “Mini Art Show” kits May 29 – 30. The kits contained a mini canvas and easel, paints, and two paintbrushes. The goal is to get patrons to return artwork by June 14, and then art will be displayed June 18 – July 9.

FOREST HILLS

Forest Hills was excited to host one of the meetings of the ASL Basics activity, giving patrons in the area an opportunity to learn more about American Sign Language and the resources available. The branch was also honored to be the site of May’s library board meeting on May 22nd so the community could attend in-person and hear about upcoming events and changes for the library system.

This year, Children’s Librarian Ana Menchaca did not take the usual programming break in May and instead, Baby Time, Story Time, Lego Time, and Kids Time continued as usual. On May 23rd, Kids Time included a celebration of World Turtles Day, during which families could choose between several options to make crafts celebrating the turtle. Forest Hills was lucky to host the “Talking Bee Roadshow” with Mr. Konrad Bouffard of Round Rock Honey. Mr. Bouffard shared his extensive knowledge about bees with library patrons. The branch was also thrilled to have Ms. Yaping Zhang teach interested families about Chinese calligraphy, as well as some history and information about Chinese art and culture. As she does every month, Ms. Menchaca contributed to the children’s reader advisory blog. She wrote about the graphic novel “Monster Friends.”

Ms. Menchaca went to A Place for Life, Head Start, to read to four classes of preschoolers; she read a couple of stories to each class and sang songs with them. In preparation for summer reading, Ms. Menchaca went to Martin Elementary to speak to students about everything available at SAPL over the summer. Ms. Menchaca and Ms. Linda Lopez, children’s librarian at Guerra Branch Library, attended the annual NISD Storyfest. The two spoke to over 200 families about SAPL and what to expect for summer reading. Ms. Menchaca went to Kiddie Corner Learning Academy to read to two classes of preschoolers, where she read and sang songs with the teachers and kids. To end the month, Ms. Menchaca visited Villarreal Elementary School and spoke to 3rd, 4th, and 5th graders about Summer Reading, answering questions about the library and encouraging everyone to visit during the summer.

Teen Librarian Shannan Prukop continued the weekly Teen Time activity for Forest Hills, with a slight change starting in May based on teen discussion and planning to make every other Tuesday focused on tabletop roleplaying games (TTRPG). The teens built the idea as a time for peers interested in playing, running, or creating their own TTRPGs, building critical thinking and social skills. On May 24th, Mx. Prukop visited Holmes High School to talk to parents during their weekly Coffee with Parents program, sharing information about the library’s services for all ages as well as what’s available for teens and particularly at Forest Hills.

Mx. Prukop also continued the weekly Dungeons and Dragons Club on the 210teenlibrary Discord server, leading teens through an epic fantasy story and encouraging them to collaborate in creating the story and giving them opportunities to use creative problem solving and conflict resolution skills. Mx. Prukop also helped with the Bookworms club on Discord along with Teen Librarian Heather Swindell, engaging teens in discussions on book-related topics, encouraging them to think analytically about such things.

Library Assistant Shy Axelrod held the monthly Bring Your Own Book Club, focusing this month on Latine culture and life; attendees were excited to discuss their choices for the month and how they worked within the culture they were from. Ms. Axelrod also held the Tabletop Gaymer Night activity, continuing to create a welcoming space for LGBTQ+ adults and their allies to meet and chat while sharing in some board games.

GREAT NORTHWEST

The Great Northwest Library hosted Dig It! Starting a Spring or Summer Home Vegetable Garden on May 11. On Saturday, May 18 the GNW Potpourri Book Club met to discuss The Kitchen Front by Jennifer Ryan. The book club meets once a month to discuss a book from a different genre. Video Gaming Club meets every Saturday afternoon and is for all ages. Participants meet up to play a variety of video games every month at the library. On May 3 Great Northwest staff member Fay McHale hosted the Lofi Stitchery. Adults were invited to bring their knitting, crochet, or sewing projects and listen to Lofi radio.

Children's Librarian Hope Sonnen visited the Braun Station Elementary School for an outreach event and shared information about San Antonio Public Library Summer Program. The Timberwilde Elementary School also visited the Great Northwest Branch Library for a field trip to the library and for a presentation on Summer Programs.

In May Great Northwest Teens planned and implemented all Teen Time programs at Great Northwest Library. Teens planned and implemented an event for National Chihuahua Day. Teen volunteers prepared three activities for this event that included homemade dog and cat food and dog toys out of old t-shirts. Teens also provided a rock painting art activity for teens who don't own pets. In May Teens planned the monthly board games meet up and played Taco Cat and Uno. One of the Teens brought a card game they created themselves. Great Northwest Teens also met up to plan a World Hunger Day food drive. They made flyers and a donation box where other teens and adults in the community could donate canned goods and books. All the donations will be donated to local food pantries.

GUERRA

May at the Guerra branch came with preparations for Summer with SAPL. The team spent time on displays, program preparations and promotion of upcoming programs for all age groups. On May 27, the branch served as a Place to School Cool. Six patrons sought refuge from the high temperatures and passive activities were made available for them to stay engaged. On May 28, the branch served as an election day site for the Texas Primary Runoff.

On May 21, the branch welcomed Teen Services Librarian I, Ana Pina. Ana joined the Guerra team while her branch undergoes renovations. Ana added engaging activities to the teen space.

Children's Librarian, Linda Lopez, continued weekly Toddler Story Time for the month of May. On May 18, she attended NISD's Story Fest along with Children's Librarian, Ana Menchaca from Forest Hills. IGO

Deborah Hinshelwood, the children's librarian at Igo Branch held a cardmaking event on May 5th in anticipation of Mother's Day. The purpose of this event was to celebrate and honor the special individuals in the lives of our children, whether they be mothers, grandmothers, or other significant figures.

Throughout the hour-long event, families joined us to participate in the cardmaking activity, which aimed to ensure every child felt included and had the opportunity to express their appreciation creatively. The concept of the VIP card symbolized the importance of these cherished relationships and allowed children to showcase their love and gratitude through personalized cards.

Igo supplied the necessary materials including paper and additional embellishments, enabling the children to unleash their creativity fully. Witnessing the enthusiasm and joy with which the children engaged in crafting these cards was truly heartwarming. They embraced the opportunity to design unique cards that reflected their affection for their loved ones.

This event was a resounding success. The turnout of families and the active participation of the children surpassed our expectations. It was evident that the event not only brought joy to the children but also strengthened the bond between our library and the families we serve.

LANDA

The Village at Incarnate Word Book Club read The Ride of Her Life by Elizabeth Letts. It was not a well-loved story. However, the discussion questions for the book brought about many happy memories of friends and family that related to the book.

Mystery Book Club read The Last Mrs. Parrish by Liv Constantine. It was not well received. The characters were unlikable, and the story felt ingenuine.

On Saturday, May 18, seniors showed up to play an enlarged game of Loteria. They won prizes and shared stories with one another.

Readers Ink Book Club read The Guest by Emma Cline. The members wondered why the book was chosen. Adult Services Librarian chooses books from Time's Best Of book list. Books are selected with the question of whether they should be on that list. Members thought The Guest should not be on the list because of the frustrating plot.

Talking Bees Roadshow came to Landa on May 14. Konrad Bouffard gave a wonderful presentation about bees and how they make their honey. He even gave out honey samples!

During May, Children's Library Jasmin Salinas wrapped up Landa's spring children's programming by focusing on STEAM activities during her Story Time and adding new materials to sensory bins during her Outdoor Family Story Time programs for kids to explore. In Preschool Story Time, children practiced sorting items and also testing if objects would sink or float, and in Outdoor Family Story Time the kids enjoyed cutting paper, hammering nails in Styrofoam, and playing with chia seeds. In Baby Story Time and Toddler Story Time, families continued to enjoy songs, rhymes, stories, and play. One family mentioned to Ms. Salinas that due to Baby Story Time, they created a lasting friendship and planned to send their children to the same day care. For children ages nine to twelve years, the Tween program continued to see the kids engaged and building friendships as they literally built structures taller than themselves with straws and connectors and plastic cups. Ms. Salinas rounded out May with final outreach visits to University Presbyterian Children's Center, Gonzalez Childhood Center, and the Little School of Keystone. Children's Librarian Salinas took a two-week programming pause at Landa Library to get ready for Summer with SAPL, but she did return to Little School of Keystone at the end of May to do eight Story Times for their summer camp classes.

Librarian Jasmin Salinas also received some new materials to create more display space in the Children's area after attending a visual merchandizing staff training and from Children's Services that highlight library materials including new books, popular topics, and upcoming holidays. One parent spoke to Librarian Salinas and mentioned that they loved the displays on top of our shelves because the staff at Landa make an effort to curate them and it makes browsing and finding great items so easy.

Amidst the music, participants also bond over conversations, discussing school events, and sharing updates about their lives.

MAVERICK

During the reporting period, Maverick welcomed the Lady Mavs Book Club, the Ladies Choice Book Club, and the Poetry Club for their monthly meeting. Maverick also hosted another great The Edge Writing Workshop presented by Poet, Dario Beniquez. Residents of the Mystic Park Nursing Home paid Maverick Library a visit to participate in an Adult Coloring Program and learned of the valuable library services offered. Maverick welcomed the Bexar County Master Gardeners for a dynamic gardening program called "Starting a Spring and Summer Home Vegetable Garden". The Mah Jongg Group met twice in May. Ben Longoria, Adult Services Librarian II, continued weeding through the nonfiction collection. In early May and late May, Maverick once again welcomed the Bexar County Elections for two Elections. The Reference Team ensured the Election Judges had access each morning and remained until voting ended for the day.

Children's Librarian, Amy Roberts, was quite productive during the reporting period. She opened the branch for Early Voting on May 20 and 24. She participated in LibChat May 10 and 24.

Summer reading preparation occurred during the reporting period. Ms. Roberts went to Central on May 7 and helped sort and pack summer reading prize books with other children's librarians. At the end of May, she promoted the summer reading program to students at Brauchle, Carson, and Wanke Elementary Schools. Ms. Roberts prepared summer crafts, organized the gift books for the kids, and created programming signage and calendars. She also made a colorful bulletin board on the large windows at Maverick.

On May 10 Ms. Roberts attended the Staff Inservice Day. On May 13, she attended Climate Training. May 21 was a Tween Committee Meeting. Finally, on May 29, Ms. Roberts attended ILL training for the upcoming Interlibrary Loan system.

Maverick Teens competed at Super Mario Smash Bros. and Jackbox games on the Switch gaming system in May. They particularly enjoy using the Switch – on loan from Central Teen Services – as it accommodates up to 8 players for some games. One week the Teens had full access to the craft cupboard and unearthed some materials they had previously not used, tiny bottles and colored sand. They also enjoyed creating with felt, air dry clay and relaxing by coloring. One Teen Volunteer was pleased to share with the group that she had created petitions at school to get a school library and that her initiative on starting a school newspaper had paid off; the first edition was being published! Another Volunteer created a new, fresh display in the Young Adult Collection area, photo below. Library Aide Adrianna Toledo assisted Library Assistant Mary Lou Bleichwehl at an Outreach event at Marshall High School. Bleichwehl facilitated students and staff obtaining or renewing Library cards and with Toledo's assistance they promoted Teen Summer programming and resources at SAPL. Bleichwehl displayed the Teen Summer T-shirt at the outreach and provoked a lot of interest in SAPL Teen programs.

McCRELESS

On May 2nd the Children's Librarian, Paula Lenington, was invited to Career Day at Highland Hills Elementary where she talked to the Pre-K program about libraries, being a librarian, and summer programming.

Paula led Family Story every Thursday in May. The children sang songs, listened to stories, and had an engaging time playing and building.

Every Tuesday of the month, children came to build and play with Legos. They did a great job using their imagination to create.

Children's Librarian Paula Lenington also leads a reoccurring crafting time called Creator Club. Anything can happen at Creator Club; it is only limited by your imagination.

The Center for Health Care Services visited the library on May 16th with a group of 16 Adults who have special needs. Paula Lenington had a story/craft time with them where she read stories and did some crafts.

On May 22nd Paula Lenington had the opportunity to visit Kiddie Corner Learning Academy, and had the privilege to read stories, and sing songs with the kids. There were around 20 kids in attendance.

While Spanish happens to be the home language of all the recent participants in the English as a Second Language (ESL) Class at McCreless, Training Officer Lodie Mueller is delighted with the group's cultural diversity, with 5-7 countries represented during most classes. These adult English learners are big proponents of the Libby app, sharing with each other about audiobooks which enhance and reinforce their language acquisition at home. One Colombian student showed her classmates an appealing audiobook in the EarWorm series. It plays English phrases and their Spanish translations against a background of catchy Latin music, and she listens to it right before going to sleep. Lodie had to get a whole new stack of Libby bookmarks to keep up with the demand of students who wanted to get in on the fun!

Every Tuesday night (from 5:30-7:30 PM) Daniela Moreno, Teen Services Librarian at McCreless, facilitated weekly programs for teens aged 13 to 18 in the teen space. Teens decided the activities they did for the following week while at the program; some examples of these activities are playing with the Nintendo Switch, creating art with materials provided, making buttons, etc. On May 1st, Librarian Daniela Moreno and Circulation Attendant Sarina Hackworth were invited to Jubilee's Ribbon Cutting ceremony for their lending library. Adult Services Librarian Vicky Villalobos held McCreless' weekly Coffee, Crosswords & Chisme program for Older Adults. On Wednesday mornings, patrons enjoy a cup of coffee while they work on crosswords, Sudoku, and word finds as they discuss the latest celebrity "chisme" and read scallywag stories from Reddit. Mr. Gonzales attended a food handling class at San Antonio Food Bank as well to prepare for the summer snacks. Library Assistant Gonzales also took a Personal Productivity Class to help serve the public better and give excellent customer service.

MEMORIAL

For nearly all of May, the meeting room at the Memorial Branch Library was home to a team of Bexar County Elections officials for primary elections and their run-off elections. An additional election was held for the new Bexar County Appraisal District representatives.

In spite of the occupation of the branch meeting room, all of the usual weekly, bi-weekly, and monthly programs and activities took place in other parts of the building. The gracious patrons of Memorial Branch seemed to take it in stride when the occasionally boisterous Basics of Loom Knitting and Jewelry Making for Beginners classes (led by Library Aide Lupe Pinales) for adults filled the Flex Space near the Connect public computers on Wednesdays. They were equally tolerant of the overflowing LEGO Time for school-age children in the same space on Friday afternoons.

Special events and activities included a May 9 class (again led by Lupe) on making paper flowers for Mother's Day, Loteria for Older Adults on May 12, the first of a series of programs about mindfulness on May 13, and an introduction to Emotional Awareness on May 14.

Teens also competed and worked in teams to create the best marshmallow launcher (made from craft sticks) and who knew the most music trivia (Disney songs). Teens also played the Nintendo Switch and table tennis. Librarian Cindy Cruz also visited the Villa Coronado Resource Center (COSA Metro Health) to make bubble magnets with teens from the area.

Librarian Oscar Gonzalez participated in the Culturally Inclusive Planetary Engagement Workshop that happened from May 16 to May 18th.

On May 18th Mission had a very popular indoor-outdoor program: "Come Explore the Solar System with NASA." Many NASA scientists were on site to provide hands on activities for participants and to answer any questions anyone may have about the solar system. There were many interactions and questions about NASA and planet exploration from all participants.

This was the last month for the branch's practicum teen volunteer. The teen volunteer assisted both the teen librarian and children's librarian with various tasks during the spring semester. She said she learned valuable skills from volunteering at the library. Ms. Nunez also visited McCollum High School for an outreach visit during the school library's lunchtime courtyard event. The teens were able to make their own buttons and picked up some free pencils, stickers, and flyers.

Parman guests enjoyed a variety of activities, including interacting with historical tradespeople, watching sword fights, enjoying live music, participating in historical dance class. Visitors also enjoyed participating in medieval sports such as axe throwing and archery. In May, to celebrate National Pet Week, Parman Branch hosted a special program "Sit, Stay, Learn!" - a dog training session led by a member of the city's Animal Care Services department and her adorable canine assistant. Later in May, a captivating Bharatanatyam dance performance celebrating AAPI was as usual, very well received by our patrons.

Led by library aide Veronica Yau, this group had a great time discussing Isabel Allende's Más allá del invierno and chose the book for their next meeting. Library assistant Melissa Moser also held an out of this world meeting for the Indecisive Book Club, which met to talk about Project Hail Mary by Andy Weir.

Our ongoing weekly adult programs continued to excel throughout May. The weekly Qi Gong and meditation classes saw growing attendance. The Polish Language and Culture Club and the Ukrainian Language and Culture Club hosted an engaging event where participants created stickers with traditional Ukrainian designs, adding a creative and cultural touch to our proposals. Overall, May was a vibrant and successful month for the Parman Branch adults with a variety of events and programs that engaged and delighted our community. May was a busy month for our Parman teens, filled with AP exams and graduation preparations, yet they still found time to unwind with friends at Teen Time by making soap, watching movies, creating Shrinky Dinks, making slime, and socializing. AP exams provided a shared experience for bonding, and one teen even taught watercolor techniques during Teen Time. We promoted SAPL opportunities at Pieper High School, where students showed great interest in summer volunteering. At Bot Camp, our teen volunteers explored Scratch, participated in a marble drop challenge, built bristle bots, and celebrated the end of STEM camp with a social gathering, marking a successful and fun-filled experience.

There were lots of celebrations in Cuentos y Canciones this month. Dia de las Madres was celebrated with Eric Carle's The Grouchy Ladybug and a craft project with hands painted and stamped on a sheet as flowers. Miss Veronica talked about being polite and not grouchy like the ladybug. One of the friends had a birthday and everyone sang "Feliz Cumpleanos" to him. He turned five years old!

The Baby Story Time attendees enjoyed bouncing rhymes, action songs, and shakers in May. Bouncing rhymes are great for allowing infants to feel the rhythm of language and to develop balance and spatial abilities.

Toddlers at Toddler Story Time loved Jane Cabrera's If You're Happy and You Know It book as we read and sang about lots of animals and the sounds they make. Everyone was engaged! Toddlers also enjoyed playing with the parachute.

Family Story Time patrons loved singing “Old MacDonald” with the help of farm animal puppets. Afterwards they enjoyed painting farm scenes with watercolors.

Kids in Creator Club helped prepare for summer by working on under the sea collaborative art pieces to hang on the meeting room walls in June! Creators also enjoyed using modeling magic to create sculptures, making designs with geoboards and constructing elaborate buildings with Magna-Tiles.

In Tween Time, kids created pom-pom animals out of yarn, made Mother’s Day cards out of variety of materials and spent a very messy hour making cloud dough and slime!

During the weekly Teen Time, teens enjoyed various activities that they chose and planned, including making Sushi and Boba Tea in recognition of May being Asian American and Pacific Islander Heritage month. Teen Time provides teens a venue to explore their interests while experiencing positive social interactions with their peers. Several teens were onboarded as new volunteers while the group said goodbye to teens graduating or aging out of teen programming. In addition to helping around the branch and maintaining the Teen Area, teen volunteers practice leadership skills by alternating the “lead” role for Teen Time and running other teen programs, including the Chapter Chatters Teen Book Club and the Young Writers Group. On May 29, Ms. Ross joined forces with Esperanza Meekins (Igo) and Michael Harle (Carver) to promote summer programming to the students at O’Connor High School, encouraging the teens to visit different library locations to get a free teens-only T-shirt, sign up for a library card, and check out the activities each branch has to offer.

In May, the San Pedro Branch continued to host 'Playthings' is an exhibition of ceramic and soft sculpture by Michael Guerra Foerster that explores ideas of connection, play and memory. Much of the work resembles toys or cartoon characters and speaks to the brevity and joy of youth. Placing the work within the children's section of San Pedro Branch Library intentionally puts it in close proximity to kids, who are able to engage with it in an altogether different and perhaps more meaningful way.

SCHAEFER

In May, Dacari Lambert, Teen Services Librarian at Schaefer Branch Library facilitated weekly Teen Time alongside teen volunteers. During Teen Time, teens engaged in peer led programming/activities. Central Library for four hours on May 15th. Research was also done by Ms. Merino to find titles to add to the "June is Pride Month" Book Picks list.

Heather, the Teen Librarian at Westfall, has noted a continued high teen interest in volunteering at the library, often due to school community service requirements, but many teens have said they wanted to volunteer because they love the library.
