Background

What is a Second Stage Business?

For this grant program, the definition of a second stage business is from the Edward Lowe Foundation, which defined a second stage business as:

- A for-profit privately owned business
- Garnerers between $1m and $50m in revenue annually
- Has between 10 and 99 employees
- Export-oriented business with intent to grow local market presence regionally, nationally, and/or internationally.

Purpose of Funding

Support San Antonio-based companies that intend to make investments to expand locally and regionally, as identified via a written growth strategy submitted with the company's application.

- Up to $50,000 per company based upon companies' needs, commitments, and leveraged resources.
- Capped at $500,000 in total program awards
