APPLICABLE CITATIONS:

Unified Development Code Sec. 35-606. - Designation Process for Historic Landmarks.

- a. Authority. Requests for landmark designation may only be made by or with the concurrence of the property owner or by City Council. Such landmarks shall bear the words "historic, landmark" (HL) in their zoning designation. In instances where a property owner does not consent to the landmark designation, the historic preservation officer shall request a resolution from city council to proceed with the designation process prior to any hearing regarding the designation by the historic and design review commission or zoning commission. Notwithstanding the foregoing, a request for landmark designation may be made and approved by the city council. Additionally, requests for designation by a property owner shall be made on a form obtained from the city historic preservation officer through the office of historic preservation. Completed request forms shall be returned to the office of historic preservation for processing. All buildings, objects, sites, structures, or clusters heretofore designated by the city council as historic landmarks under any pre-existing ordinance of the City of San Antonio shall be accorded the protection of properties designated historic landmarks under this chapter and shall continue to bear the words "historic, exceptional" (HE) or "historic, significant" (HS) in their zoning designation.
- b. Initiation.
 1. Any person, the historic and design review commission, zoning commission, the historic preservation officer, or the city council may initiate a request for review of historic significance or evaluation for eligibility for historic landmark designation. Owner consent to initiate historic landmark designation shall be required unless a city council resolution to proceed with the designation has been approved. Requests for historic landmark designation may be requested by or with verified written consent of a property owner and shall be made on a form obtained from the city historic preservation officer. Required application materials are listed in section 35-B129 of this chapter. Completed request forms shall be returned to the office of historic preservation for processing. Additionally, owners may submit with the application a written description and photographs or other visual material of any buildings or structures that they wish to be considered for designation as non-contributing to the historic landmark.
 2. Requests made by a person who does not represent the property owner may be made by submitting a Request for Review of Historic Significance. Required application materials are listed in section 35-B129 of this chapter. Completed request forms shall be returned to the office of historic preservation for processing. Such request does not initiate the historic designation process or automatically result in interim controls. All applications shall be evaluated by the historic preservation officer and may be referred to the Historic and Design Review Commission for a Finding of Historic Significance in accordance with this section.
- g. Decision. A Finding of Historic Significance may be approved by the Historic Preservation Officer or by the historic and design review commission by a majority vote of members present. If approved, the Historic Preservation Officer will seek concurrence from the property owner. Property owners may verify or withdraw consent at any time during the designation process.
 1. All requests for a change in zoning to include a historic zoning overlay having either written, verified owner consent or resolution by City Council to proceed with the historic landmark designation will be processed in accordance with 35-421.

2. If the subject property owner does not consent to the proposed designation, the Historic Preservation Officer shall request City Council resolution to initiate historic landmark designation.
3. To designate a historic landmark, the city shall obtain consent to the designation by the owner of the property or approval of designation by three-fourths ($\frac{3}{4}$) vote of the Historic and Design Review Commission recommending the designation and a three-fourths ($\frac{3}{4}$) vote by the City Council. If the property is owned by an organization that is a religious organization under Section 11.20, Tax Code, the property may be designated as a historic landmark only if the organization consents to the designation.
4. Upon passage of any ordinance designating a historic landmark, or removing the designation of historic, the city clerk shall send notice of the fact by mail to the owner or owners of affected property.

Unified Development Code Sec. 35-607. – Designation Criteria for Historic Districts and Landmarks.

- a. Process for Considering Designation of Historic Districts and Landmarks. Historic districts and landmarks shall be evaluated for designation using the criteria listed in subsection (b). In order to be eligible for historic landmark designation, properties shall meet at least three (3) of the criteria listed. Historic districts shall consist of at least two (2) or more structures within a legally defined boundary that meet at least three (3) of the criteria. Additionally, all designated landmarks and districts shall demonstrate clear delineation of the legal boundaries of such designated resources.
- b. Criteria for Evaluation.
 3. Its identification with a person or persons who significantly contributed to the development of the community, county, state, or nation;
 4. Its identification as the work of a master builder, designer, architect, or landscape architect whose individual work has influenced the development of the community, county, state, or nation;
 8. Its historical, architectural, or cultural integrity of location, design, materials, and workmanship;
 13. It bears an important and significant relationship to other distinctive structures, sites, or areas, either as an important collection of properties or architectural style or craftsmanship with few intrusions, or by contributing to the overall character of the area according to the plan based on architectural, historic, or cultural motif.

FINDINGS:

- a. The request for landmark designation was initiated by the property owner.
- b. HISTORIC CONTEXT: The structure at 1302 Hicks Avenue is a one-story dwelling, built circa 1928. Anthony J. and Dana M. Jacob currently own the property. Prolific San Antonio developer B.G. Irish subdivided the neighborhood called The Highlands in 1923. He purchased the land from L.P. Peck and Ben Hammond, two members of the Highland Park Improvement Company which was developing the subdivision immediately north of The Highlands. Prior to its purchase for development, Albert Steves, Jr. ran cattle on this property, leading to its early nickname of “the old Steve pasture.” Key to the development of what was then the largest suburb in San Antonio was the new trolley line to facilitate commuting to downtown. The No. 10 Line passed through Highland Park via Rigsby Avenue ending at Adele Street (now S Walters) until 1933, when the trolley was replaced by bus service. The current population density of this neighborhood was reached between WW I and WW II. 1302 Hicks Avenue first appears in the 1929-30 San Antonio City Directory as the home of Homer L. (Jr.) and Ethel Bramble. Homer was the President of Merchants Casualty Company, an insurance firm. During World War II the subject property was the home of three World War II soldiers and their families. In the 1942 City Directory, it is listed as the home of Lieutenant Laurence C. Threlkeld and his wife, Leila Mae. The couple married in March 1941, and Leila Mae’s parents purchased the property for them in November 1941. Leila Mae’s brother, First Lieut. Herbert E. Pace Jr., was killed in action at Corregidor on April 28, 1942. Lt. Threlkeld attained the rank of Major during the war, and his brother, Neil C.

Threlkeld, was promoted to the rank of captain in the Solomon Islands. His wife, Mrs. Rita P. Threlkeld, also resided at 1302 Hicks Ave. The property was also home to a fighter pilot named Lt. Col. Luther H. Richmond. His wife (formerly Jean Gaines) was from San Antonio, so she and their children resided there when he was shot down, captured, and held as a Prisoner of War in Germany.

- c. SITE CONTEXT: The subject property is located in the Highland Park neighborhood of San Antonio, east of the I-37 and I-10 interchange. Anthony J. and Dana M. Jacob purchased the property in June 2021. Cedarcrest (alternately “Cedar Crest”) was a neighborhood in San Antonio nestled within Highland Park. An ad in the October 21, 1928 issue of the San Antonio Express describes Cedarcrest as “45 new homes of permanent rock, brick and stucco construction, and covering both sides of the 1300 and 1400 blocks of Hicks Avenue, between New Braunfels and Palmetto Avenues.” 1302 Hicks Avenue is situated on the northwest corner of the block at the intersection of S Palmetto Avenue. The house sits along the west edge of the parcel with a ribbon drive along the east side of the lot and house. The house is set back from the street in line with its direct neighbors and other homes on the block.
- d. ARCHITECTURAL DESCRIPTION: 1302 Hicks Avenue is a one-story, single-family house built in the Spanish Eclectic style. The original structure’s wood frame and chimney are clad in stucco. The Spanish Eclectic style developed in California in the early 20th century and experienced great popularity throughout the 1920s on a national scale, but particularly in the Southwest United States and Florida. Hicks Avenue and the surrounding neighborhood attracted an affluent group of purchasers including professionals and wealthy landowners. Development ceased during the Great Depression, and the style was not revived in the post-depression era. The front façade features an octagonal left wing and a front-facing gabled right wing, extended so that a wooden shed roof covers a concrete porch in the center third of the façade. The porch roof is supported by wooden square floor-to-ceiling columns, with exposed rafters and synthetic composite shingles. The octagonal left wing features a castellated parapet on the front facing extension, with rooftop railing. The center section features an arched cutout (which may have been a window that has been infilled), and the adjacent sections have one-over-one wood windows. The chimney is located on the right side of the structure, to the right of the eave wall of the front-facing gable. The wood windows over the porch, on the front facing gable, on the right façade, and on the rear façade appear to have been replaced between 2013 and 2016, based on Google Street View imagery. There is a rear accessory dwelling unit (casita) near the southeast corner of the lot, and a storage shed on the southwest corner of the lot. Both structures are single-story units with a low-pitched, side-gabled roof, topped with synthetic composite shingles. The casita has a sliding glass door entry, no windows, and a low-raised wooden deck with a single step and railings. The storage shed has a pair of swinging doors and no windows. Historically, the ribbon drive led to a rear garage at the southeast corner of the lot, as evidenced by Sanborn Maps as late as 1952. Aerial imagery suggests that a new structure was built with a similar footprint around 1987. This structure has been rebuilt as a casita, and Google Street Views indicate that wooden fencing replaced the chain link fence between 2011 and 2013, and the casita and storage shed were built in 2013.
- e. EVALUATION: In order to be eligible for historic landmark designation, properties shall meet at least three (3) of the 16 criteria listed. The applicant submitted that the property meets the following criteria, consistent with UDC sec. 35-607(b):

3. Its identification with a person or persons who significantly contributed to the development of the community, county, state, or nation; for its association with the families of World War II soldiers who were Prisoners of War or Killed in Action.

4. Its identification as the work of a master builder, designer, architect, or landscape architect whose individual work has influenced the development of the community, county, state, or nation; for its association with prolific home builders American Building Company.

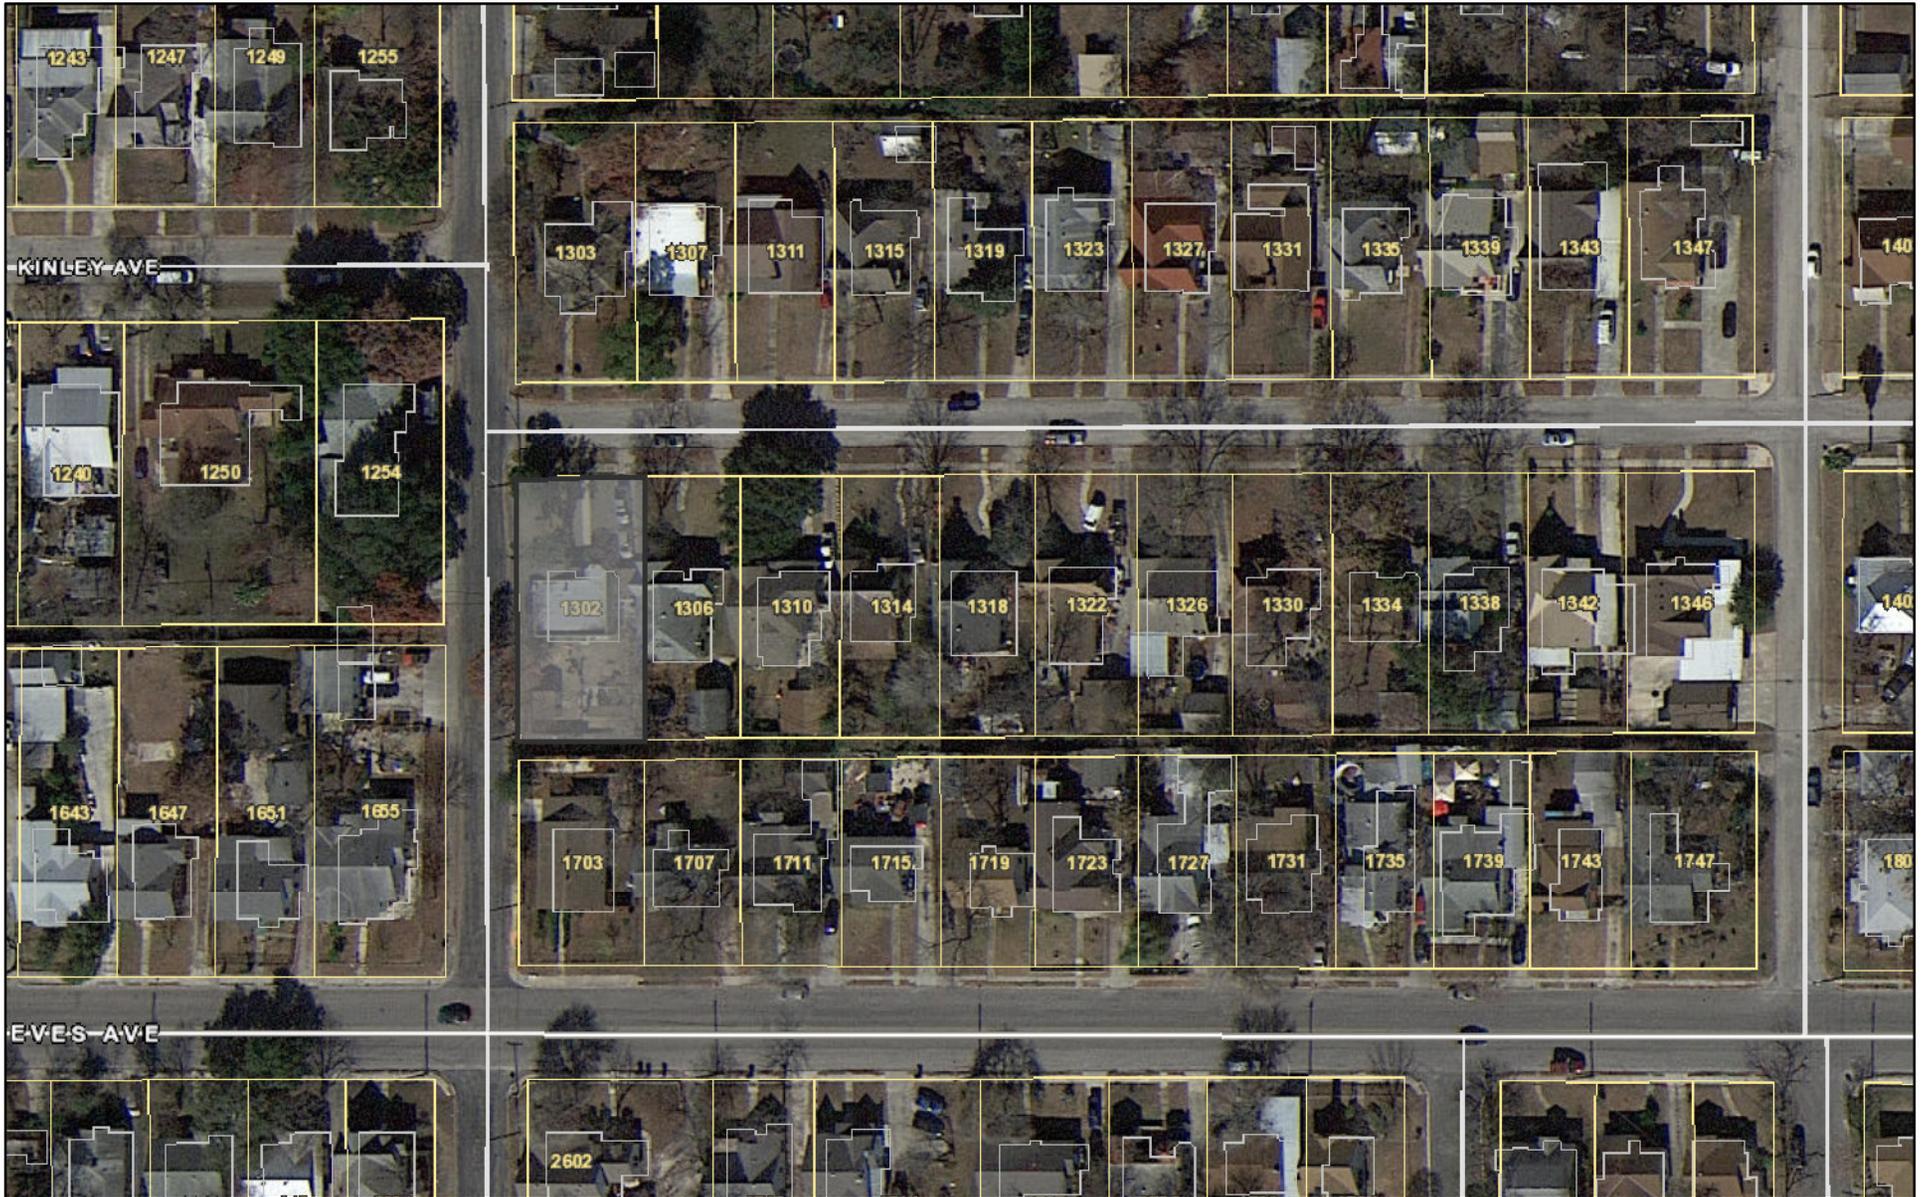

8. Its historical, architectural, or cultural integrity of location, design, materials, and workmanship; as an example of the Spanish Eclectic style with stucco exterior.

13. It bears an important and significant relationship to other distinctive structures, sites, or areas, either as an important collection of properties or architectural style or craftsmanship with few intrusions, or by contributing to the overall character of the area according to the plan based on architectural, historic, or cultural motif; it is one of the first 45 homes in the Cedarcrest section of the Highland Park neighborhood.

- f. The City offers a tax incentive for the substantial rehabilitation of historic properties because historic landmarks possess cultural and historical value and contribute to the overall quality and character of the City and its neighborhoods. If historic designation is approved, rehabilitation and restoration work may be eligible for this incentive. State and Federal tax incentives are also available for properties listed on the National Register of Historic Places and provide substantial relief for rehabilitation projects.
- g. If the HDRC approves the Historic Landmark Designation, then the recommendation for designation is submitted to the Zoning Commission. The Zoning Commission will schedule a hearing and then forward its recommendation to the City Council. City Council has the ultimate authority to approve the historic designation zoning overlay.
- h. Per UDC Sec. 35-608, once the Commission makes a recommendation for designation, property owners must receive a written approval (a Certificate of Appropriateness) for any exterior work until the City Council makes their final decision.

The current population density of this neighborhood was reached between WW I and WW II.

Cedarcrest (alternately “Cedar Crest”) was a neighborhood in San Antonio nestled within Highland Park. An ad in the October 21, 1928 issue of the San Antonio Express describes Cedarcrest as “45 new homes of permanent rock, brick and stucco construction, and covering both sides of the 1300 and 1400 blocks of Hicks Avenue, between New Braunfels and Palmetto Avenues.” The American Building Company claimed that these “Cedarcrest ABC Everlasting Homes are far and away in the front rank of the most outstanding home values ever offered in San Antonio,” and promised that “Folks will live happily ever after in Cedarcrest, for here are real homes, securely built, financed so as not to be a burden, and constructed for everlasting satisfaction.”¹

1302 Hicks Avenue is situated on the northwest corner of the block at the intersection of S Palmetto Avenue. The house sits along the west edge of the parcel with a ribbon drive along the east side of the lot and house. The house is set back from the street in line with its direct neighbors and other homes on the block. 1302 Hicks Avenue first appears in the 1929-30 San Antonio City Directory as the home of Homer L. (Jr.) and Ethel Bramble. Homer was the President of Merchants Casualty Company, an insurance firm. From 1931 to 1934, the home was listed as vacant in the City Directory, and then it was occupied briefly by a series of tenants: Mrs. Mamie McMillan, a dressmaker (1936); Mr. William M. Stephens, an industrial engineer, and his wife Edythe (1938); and Mr. William A Weaver, a salesman, and his wife Geraldine (1940).

During World War II the subject property was the home of three World War II soldiers and their families. In the 1942 City Directory, it is listed as the home of Lieutenant Laurence C. Threlkeld and his wife, Leila Mae. Leila Mae was the daughter of Colonel and Mrs. Herbert Edward Pace. Col. Pace was stationed at Fort Sam Houston, where he was the head of finance for the Eighth Corps Area Command.

The couple married in March 1941, and Leila Mae's parents purchased the property for them in November 1941. Leila Mae's brother, First Lieut. Herbert E. Pace Jr., was killed in action at Corregidor on April 28, 1942. Lt. Threlkeld was the son of Dr. and Mrs. Richard L. Threlkeld of Broomfield, Colorado.² During the war, he attained the rank of Major, and his brother, Neil C. Threlkeld, was promoted to the rank of captain in the Solomon Islands. His wife, Mrs. Rita P. Threlkeld, also resided at 1302 Hicks Ave.³ The property was also home to a fighter pilot named Lt. Col. Luther H. Richmond. After the war, the Richmond family left San Antonio and he rose to the rank of Major General in the U.S. Air Force. The Threlkelds also relocated after the war. In 1948, the City Directory lists Mr. S. Schira and his wife Katie at this address. From 1951 to 1970, it was the home of Mr. William A. Wiley, an inspector at Kelly Air Force Base, and his wife Mattie.

The subject property is located in the Highland Park neighborhood of San Antonio, east of the I-37 and I-10 interchange. Anthony J. and Dana M. Jacob purchased the property in June 2021.
