Hoophouse. A temporary structure constructed of translucent material and supported on metal or plastic pipe, which is devoted to the protection or cultivation of flowers or other tender plants. Also called High Tunnel.

Produce. Fresh fruits and/or vegetables, honey, eggs, nuts, and other agricultural products.

Residential market garden. A garden at one's residence that grows produce incidental to a residential use. Excess produce may be sold on site or elsewhere. In order to maintain residential character, sales of produce shall be so conducted as to not be visible from any public street or walk. ~~Sales on the property must be conducted out of sight of the general public.~~

Soil organic matter (SOM. The organic component of soil, consisting of three primary parts including small (fresh) plant residues and small living soil organisms, decomposing (active) organic matter, and stable organic matter (humus). Soil organic matter serves as a reservoir of nutrients for crops, trees, shrubs, and vegetation, and provides soil aggregation, increases nutrient exchange, retains moisture, reduces compaction, reduces surface crusting, and increases water infiltration into soil. (Sources: NRCS)

~~Truck farm. A small tract of land (less than ten (10) acres) on which produce is raised and sold by the owner on site or at off site markets.~~

Urban farm. A tract of land within city limits, not at one's own residence, on which produce is raised and sold on site or elsewhere. This can include farming and/or greenhouses and/or hoophouses on vacant lots or acreage. Composting of vegetative materials produces on the farm or elsewhere is allowed, as long as it is covered by dry material to prevent nuisance conditions. A farmstand or market may be located on the site. In addition to holding a market, an urban farm may host educational events and/or serve as an event venue, provided that sufficient off-street parking is provided.
